The pupils of Primary Five at Kawolo Primary School in Lugazi were very excited on Friday afternoon. This followed their lesson about the use of the telephone by Mr. Mukiibi Godfrey, their teacher of English.

He started by explaining that the word telephone comes from two words "tele" which means long distance and "phone" which means sound. Therefore, a telephone is a service that enables people to speak directly over long distances.

He then said that there were majorly two kinds of telephones; the landline and the mobile phone. "A mobile phone is the commonly used phone these days, he said.

A mobile phone, also known as a cell phone or cellular was invented in 1973 by Martin Cooper. It has been upgraded over the years. The current mobile phone is the smart phone. This has a touch screen and it enables one to install and uninstall applications of one's preference.

Then Kaudha, one of the pupils asked, "How do we make a telephone call?" "In order to make a telephone call, one needs to load airtime on the SIM Card. This airtime is provided by service providers such as MTN and Airtel. Then one dials the telephone number and makes a call. "Besides telephone calls, one can also send text messages, "answered the teacher.

The teacher added that a mobile phone can also be used with mobile money services to send or receive money from our beloved ones. "so, do you mean we can use the phone to bank the money as well?" inquired Besiga. "Exactly

! Besides, you can also use the phone to pay TV bills, water bills and electricity bills just in the comfort of your living room without moving anywhere!" he said.

He, however, said that a telephone has one major challenge. It requires charging of its battery severally and therefore it is not convenient in places where there is no electricity.
